

We do more than building buildings.
We're building solutions.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

DALTON SMITH, PROJECT MANAGER

Dalton began his construction career in 2017. Unlike his mentors at Richard K. Davis Construction he did not find his love for construction until he decided to renovate a house in his early 20's. As a young man working his way through college, trying to decide what path to take, the light came on once he saw all his hard work pay off with the completion of his first home. With a bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Florida Institute of Technology, he decided to focus his education towards construction, studying Building Construction Technology at Indian River State College. By joining Richard K. Davis Construction in 2019, one of the area's leading design/build construction firms, he has had the opportunity to learn from some of the best General Contractors in the area refining his skills in budget development, construction management, and cost-effective design.
